The Colonial Estate Exile Barossa Cabernet Sauvignon 2010

Deep purple red in colour. A powerful nose which is fragrant and teases the senses with aromas of ripe rich plums, black currant, blackberry and a hint of cassis. The palate whilst the wine is still young is vibrant showing abundant fruit flavours, highlighted by dark berry fruits and the finish is long with fine grained tannins and lovely layers of oak which add further complexity.

Second glance shows smooth chocolate character with touches of spice. The evolving palate and bouquet suggest decanting and allowing wine to breathe prior to consuming to ensure its beauty is allowed to fully express itself.
